KEEDY (KELLY)

Keedy Ann Kelly was born in Abilene, Texas and is best known for her single "Save Some love" that reached #15 on the Pop charts in 1991. She is a singer, songwriter and a dancer who made her home-base Milwaukee, Wisconsin. After leaving her record label, Arista, she joined a local cover band in Milwaukee, The Orphans. After spending some fruitful time with The Orphans she moved on teaming up with her husband musician Royce Hall forming a band, The LuvByrds. Keedy continues to writing recording with her husband Royce (singer, songwriter, arranger, and instrumentalist) and their band. They frequently post demos on their Royce & Keedy myspace.com for fun. When more information, along with a photo, is received on Keedy it will be posted on her page.
